

CELANews Submission Guidelines

CELANews is an online forum for the CELA community to connect and share information. In addition to deadlines, information about course registration, and other academic notifications, CELANews offers updates about noteworthy events, workshops, and happenings in the field of expressive/creative arts therapies.

Submissions are welcome from the CELA community and those in the larger expressive/creative arts community.

We accept submissions for:

- Professional exchange (news and noteworthy information)
- Professional development (workshops, courses, trainings in expressive/creative arts therapies)
- Events (shows, exhibitions, concerts, plays, performances, and other events)
- Other news and information that may benefit the CELA community

How to send your information:

Please use the message box on the CELANews page of our website to submit your information for review.

Contributions may include links to audio/video. Remember to provide the complete URL for any links in your submission.

Note: all submissions are subject to editing for length and content at CELA's discretion.

We look forward to hearing from you!
